

www.networkforpractices.co.uk

Trainer Information

Andrew is a Health and Safety professional who has worked in the industry for the last 9 years.

He has experience working with various industries such as civil aviation, construction, automotive the list does go on.

He is a technical member of IOSH which means he is backed by a world-famous safety organisation.

Andrew enjoys having meaningful safety conversations and this why he finds training enjoyable to deliver.

Booking Information

To book a place/s email
bookings@networkforpractices.co.uk

Our acceptance of your booking brings into existence a legally binding contract between us on the following Terms & Conditions - If places are booked but cancelled before payment has been made or a candidate DNAs, the fee will remain due. Cancellations will attract a refund if the course is subsequently fully booked. To avoid any confusion, we ask that Cancellations are by email only. We will make every effort to resell the cancelled place. Where places are free a £45 charge will be applied to cancellations/DNAs. Payment is required within 30 days from date of invoice.

Fire Marshal Training

Essential Preparation for Effective Workplace Fire Marshals

Date: 12th March 2026
Times: 1400-1600
Venue: Microsoft Teams Online Platform

Places available: 13

Fee/s: NfP Members £55
Non Members £100

This workshop is suitable for: Practice Managers, Lead GP for premises and H&S, anyone tasked with overseeing fire safety in their organisation. Employees nominated as fire marshals or fire wardens. H&S representatives seeking advanced fire safety knowledge.

We are pleased to present our comprehensive Fire Marshal Training Course, thoughtfully developed for individuals who play a vital role in workplace fire safety. Whether you are currently a designated fire marshal, a fire warden, or you are being considered for this responsibility, this course is tailored to give you the expertise and confidence required to fulfil your duties.

Introduction

This training provides in-depth, practical instruction on all aspects of fire marshal responsibilities. You will gain a clear understanding of current fire legislation, effective prevention measures, and the critical actions required during an emergency. Through detailed presentations and practical demonstrations, you will learn how to use fire extinguishers safely, coordinate safe evacuations, and promote a proactive approach to fire prevention in your workplace.

Assigning trained fire marshals is not only a legal requirement in many environments but also a strong demonstration of your practices' commitment to the safety and well-being of all staff and guests.

Aims

The core aims of this course are as follows:

- To provide each delegate with a thorough grounding in fire safety regulations and the specific legal responsibilities that come with the role of fire marshal
- To develop your ability to recognise, assess, and manage fire hazards across a wide range of workplace environments
- To teach you how to select and use different types of fire extinguishers appropriately and safely
- To ensure you can organise and lead efficient evacuations, accounting for the needs of all occupants during a fire emergency
- To raise awareness of arson risks and explore how fire can impact business continuity and property
- To prepare you to communicate swiftly and accurately with emergency services and support your colleagues during incidents

Registered Office: Frome Medical Centre, Enos Way, Frome, Somerset, BA11 2FH

Network for Practices Ltd Company No 06435074. - Incorporated at Companies House, Cardiff 22nd November 2007

www.networkforpractices.co.uk

Trainer Information

Andrew is a Health and Safety professional who has worked in the industry for the last 9 years.

He has experience working with various industries such as civil aviation, construction, automotive the list does go on.

He is a technical member of IOSH which means he is backed by a world-famous safety organisation.

Andrew enjoys having meaningful safety conversations and this why he finds training enjoyable to deliver.

Booking Information

To book a place/s email bookings@networkforpractices.co.uk

Our acceptance of your booking brings into existence a legally binding contract between us on the following Terms & Conditions - if places are booked but cancelled before payment has been made or a candidate DNAs, the fee will remain due. Cancellations will attract a refund if the course is subsequently fully booked. To avoid any confusion, we ask that Cancellations are by email only. We will make every effort to resell the cancelled place. Where places are free a £45 charge will be applied to cancellations/DNAs. Payment is required within 30 days from date of invoice.

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the course, you will be able to:

- Explain current fire safety laws and regulations in the UK, as well as your organisation's fire safety policies
- Describe how fire develops, what fuels it, and how it behaves within different building environments
- Identify the various classes of fire and select the correct fire extinguisher type and corresponding colour code for each situation
- Act quickly and correctly in the event of a fire, following your company's emergency procedures and contacting the fire brigade as required
- Spot potential fire hazards in your workplace, report them, and take action to reduce associated risks
- Confidently handle fire extinguishers, understanding both their capabilities and their limitations, with hands-on practice included
- Lead and support the evacuation process, making sure that all building occupants are safely accounted for at assembly points
- Check and maintain fire safety equipment, documenting inspections according to legal and organisational standards
- Encourage a culture of fire safety awareness, including vigilance against arson, throughout your team or department

Why Choose This Course?

By participating in this course, you will gain the knowledge and confidence to act decisively in a fire emergency and to maintain high standards of safety every day. This training is essential for regulatory compliance and invaluable for peace of mind, equipping you with skills that benefit not only your workplace but also your wider community.

We look forward to welcoming you and supporting your development as a competent and proactive fire marshal.